TPN and Dextrose-Containing Solutions
To prevent the risk of hyperglycemia in patients on TPN and other dextrose containing IV fluids, a new rule has been developed.

This rule will warn nurses during administration of TPN if there is an active order for a dextrose containing IV fluid.

The alert will provide the comments from the TPN and any other dextrose containing IV fluids to determine if the IV fluid should be discontinued or if the provider should be consulted.